

Friends may 1st

If you were only 8 years old and only had one (1) friend. And that one (1) friend turned their back on you. your best friend you ever had. The person who paid for all of your tickets when you go to the carnival. And take you out to buy cloze and shoes. Now that doesn't happen any more. Your so called friend isn't there for you any more. He or she just ignores you and ditches you when you play tag. Your house gets robbed and they show it on the ten o'clock news that friend of yours laugh and thinks it's a joke. Make sure you have a good friend that will be there till the end. Don't be friends with people that will last for 2 weeks and turn their back on you just like that. Get a friend that will last forever and ever, that you will never forget. And tell me tell me has that ever happen to you before. Well it happen to me before. And it wasn't a good site. I cry my self to sleep every single night, brake down in tear in school, all because of that one (1) friend I ever had
